

It's a game of frayed nerves.

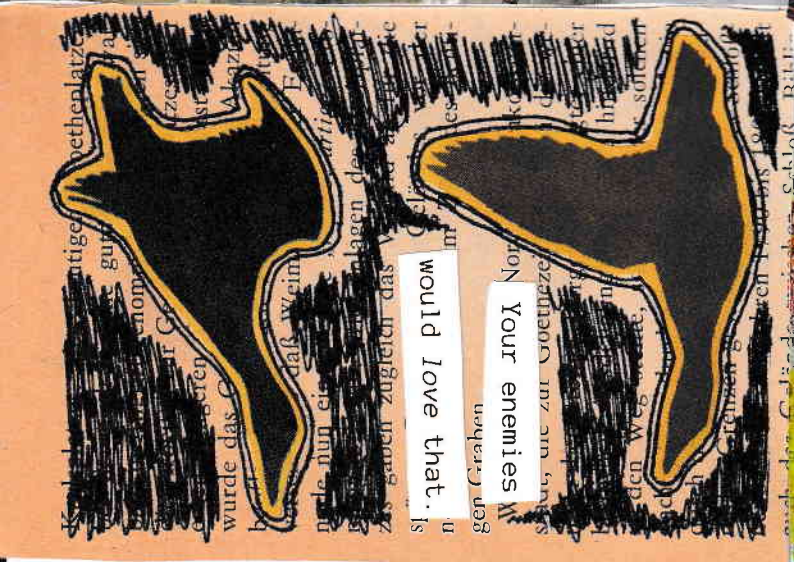

You're pushed on by numbers and punitive measures: pain, rejection, and unpaid bills.

You can either play or crawl under a boat and waste away - turn into salt or a flock of seagulls.

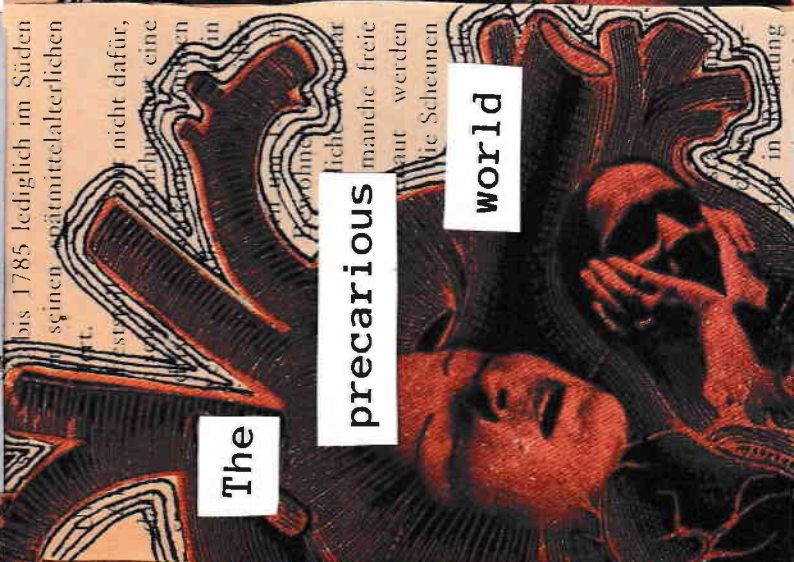

would love that. Your enemies

The world is balanced on the edge of a knife.

How not to lose? It is impossible not to.

The precarious world

Or you can fight.

The only way

to load the dice

is to keep on fighting.
